

Conductor's Workshops – Fact Sheet

Objective: To provide new and aspiring conductors with a foundation on which to build their knowledge and skills.

Previous conducting experience is not essential but would be an advantage.

The Workshops will be run over two days, with an experienced facilitator leading the content. Candidate participation and input is essential, leveraging on the experience of the group and learning from each other.

The sessions will contain a mix of tuition, open discussion, plus breakout discussion groups, giving an opportunity to feedback and share learning with the wider group.

Places will be strictly limited to ensure everyone is allowed time to participate.

Candidates will be asked to bring their individual instruments on day two and will be invited to join the workshop band.
